

How To Wiki

So how do I use this thing?!

O_o

This guide will be broken in to two separate parts. The first will be a guided training course that will start with a foundation and then build up. The second part will be task sorted. This way if all one needs to know is how to add a picture they will be able to quickly jump to that page.

Guided Training

This is the portal to the guided training course. each page will have an estimated time and once i have all the pages built there will be a total time listed here. As you progress through this training please take the time to actually go and click/see what is being described or explained. To begin the guided training course click...
